FOREWORD

Another year has come and gone. This one has been more than interesting to say the least.

The Seniors are now relaxed, enjoying the "Post National Board Syndrome" and contemplating the future year of Internship with enthusiasm.

The Juniors fought the Clinics, Wards and multiple lectures. The Sophomores completed their numerous Boards and are eagerly looking forward to the Clinical years. The Freshmen, well, they are no longer Freshmen.

We have enjoyed bringing you this year's edition of the Caduceus. We were handicapped by a late start. You know we are only human and mistakes were undoubtedly made. For these, please accept our humble apologies. We tried to make this year's Annual representative of the School. Hope you think we succeeded.

We wish to express our appreciation and thanks to all of those whose cooperation made this publication possible. Our hats are off particularly to Dr. A. W. McCullough, Shrader's Studio, our Staff Photographers, the Medical Dames, the School of Pharmacy for their splendid section and to Mr. Jim Long and the Taylor Publishing Company.

DEDICATION

This is the second year for the relatively new, though long thought of, Preceptorship Program. To the Senior student it has been an invaluable aid in familiarizing him with the problems and methods of handling a General Practice.

The Preceptors are carefully selected representatives of the General Practitioners of Arkansas, your family physicians. Though busy both day and a great part of the night in caring for the ills and suffering of the citizens of their particular Community they were willing to take time out to teach and explain the many duties and tasks they must perform to the student assigned to them. Each member of the Senior Class spends a period of eight weeks with one of these preceptors, being furnished lodging and board during that time by the Preceptor.

To these men whose pictures and names appear on the opposite page, for making this program possible and extremely worthwhile, we gratefully dedicate this book.

S. G. MITTELSTAEDT, Ph.D.
Dean, School of Pharmacy

On the pages of this Caduceus are reflected the many interesting events of the students and staff of the School of Pharmacy. This recorded history of 1953-54 will long be remembered for the many activities that have transpired. It is another forward step in preparing men and women for professional pharmaceutical service.

The progress of the past few years has been most re-assuring. It is a real stimulant for the future which lies ahead.

Many of the students of this school have made enviable scholastic records. This spirit of scholastic progress and energetic enthusiasm for the profession of pharmacy is most commendable.

Our best wishes go with these students for all their future endeavors.

FRANG DELMONEGO ..... Salesman

We, of the Caduceus Staff, of the School of Pharmacy, hope that you enjoy this year's edition as much as we have enioyed bringing it to you.

We would like to express our appreciation to the office staff and our many business friends, who have made this publication possible.

R. O. BACHMANN
Senior Class Advisor

The role of the Student Advisor is often a difficult and thankless task. He devotes both his time and his energy, and in return receives only an occasional thank you.

Therefore, in our hour of departure, we of the Senior Class would like to extend to Dr. Bachmann, our faculty advisor, our deepest appreciation for the many services given by him, and to pay to him this lasting tribute and public thank you.

In order to better acquaint the student with the current problems in pharmacy and to provide opportunity for leadership development, the organization of Student Association Branches was begun in 1951 at the Fayetteville and Little Rock Campuses.

The objectives of the Associations are brotherhood, high standards of scholarship and morality.

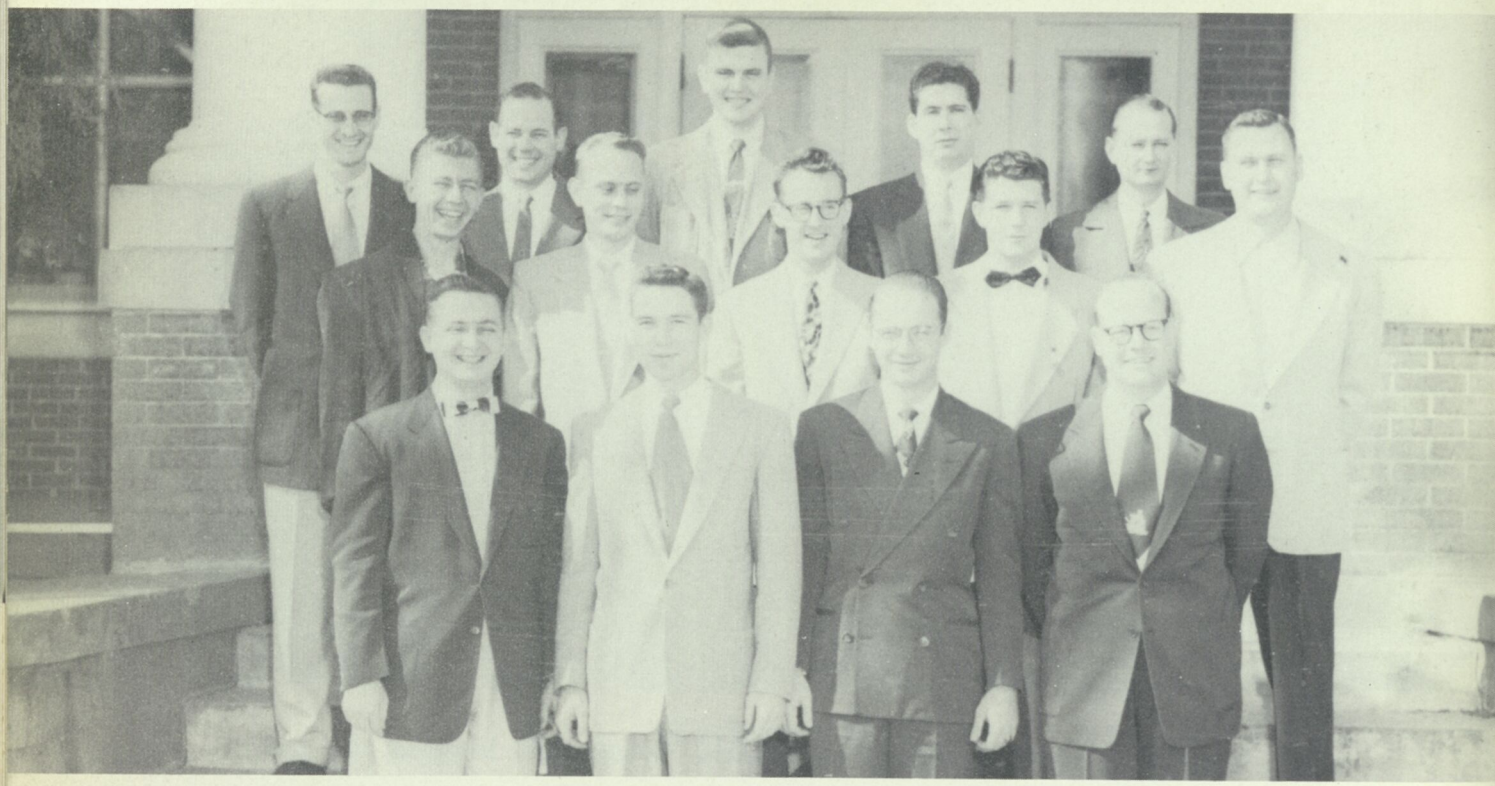
Second row: Barrett, Jones, Hays, Walters, Plunkett, Sullivan.

Third row: Wall, Hestir, Edwards, Patrick, Delmonego, Brown, Blomstrand.

Fourth row: Blundell, Taylor, Reisz, Powell, Massey, McFatter, Murray.

PHARMACY CLUB



First row: Floyd, Kahre, Ragland, Sullivan.

Second row: Barrett, Edwards, Patrick, Plunkett, Blomstrand.

Third row: Morris, Blundell, Taylor, Murray, McFatter.

Since the beginning of the Pharmacy School, there has been a desire for a social, as well as, a professional fraternity on our campus.

This desire has led to the establishment of our (embryo) fraternity, which as yet is not completely organized, but everything must have a beginning. We hope that this is the beginning of a very active and close knit group on our campus.

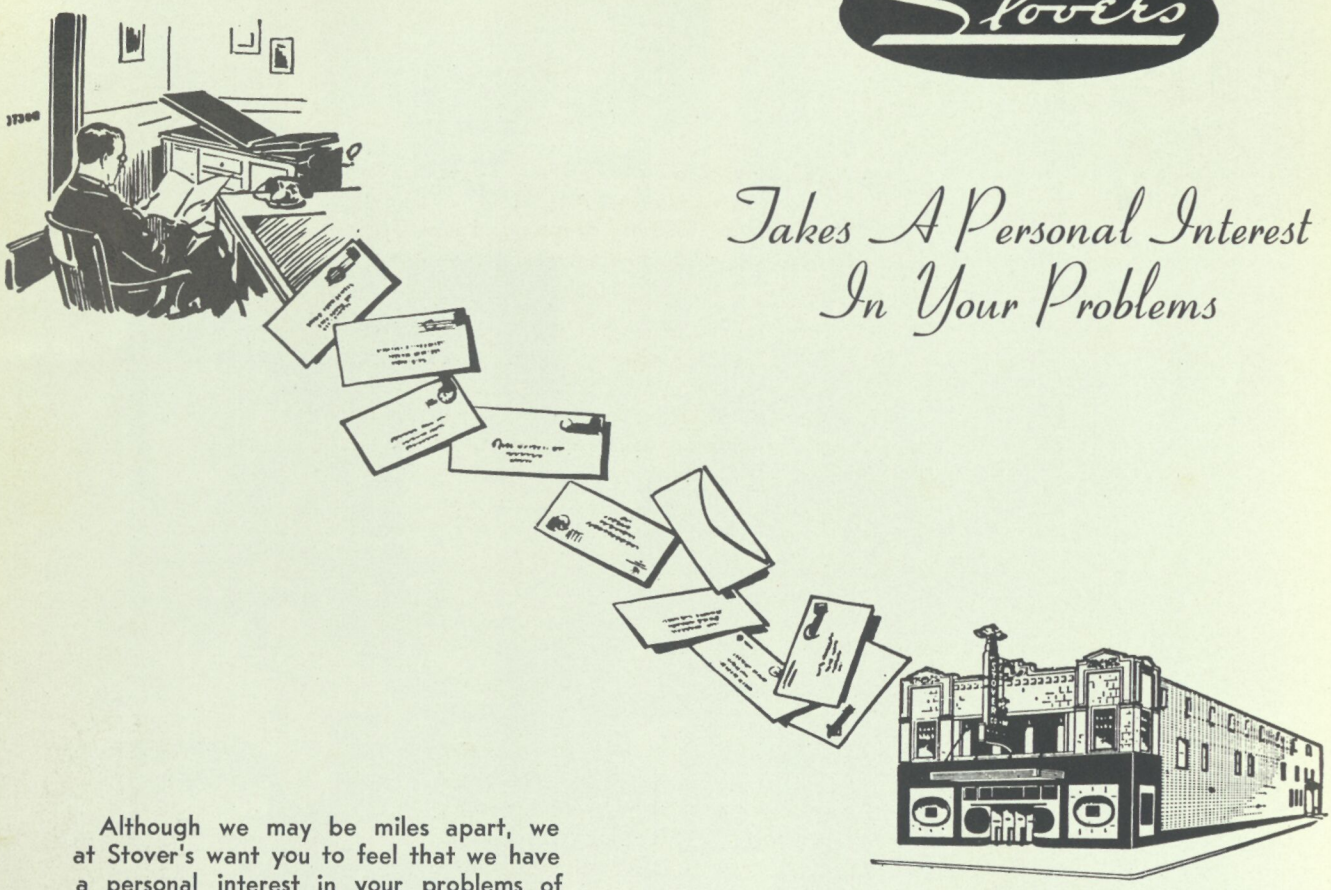
Stover's



Takes A Personal Interest In Your Problems

Although we may be miles apart, we at Stover's want you to feel that we have a personal interest in your problems of equipping your office. If you have any question, and our salesman is not available at the time you want this information, please feel free to write or phone us, collect, and we assure you that your letter or phone call will have the most careful, personal attention.

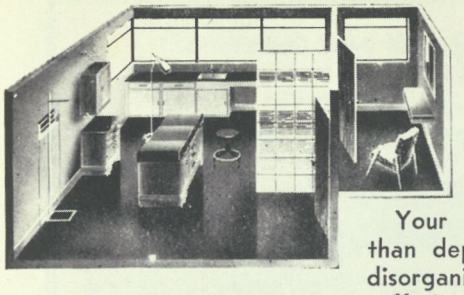
In the past ten years we have become one of the largest dealers in the United States, with the finest facilities and most modern display rooms, and are so organized that you can call upon us for prompt and complete information.

Your

PROFESSIONAL OFFICE SHOULD WORK FOR YOU!

Your professional office is more than a workplace . . . It is both a contributor to your progress and a yardstick to your success as a physician.

Your professional office should work for you. As the place where you spend most of your time, it should yield maximum service with minimum effort. Faulty space planning, bad furniture arrangement, poor lighting, noise, and dismal decor impair the efficiency of your work.



Your professional office should impress rather than depress your patients. A shabby, run-down, disorganized office is not consoling to patients suffering pain or physical discomfort. Nor does it inspire their confidence in you.

Your professional office should reflect your personality . . . either in decorative theme or in display of hobby items suggesting your personal activities. Choice of colors, pictures, plants, and furnishings indicates your personal taste. Good taste is not lost upon your patients.

Favorable Patient Reaction . . .

The trend toward better planned and equipped doctors' offices has been gaining such impetus that no progressive doctor can afford to postpone the practical advantages to be gained through modernizing his office. Patients are quick to recognize the improved service they receive in well-equipped offices . . . and equally quick to sense the handicaps of obsolete furniture and equipment.

People judge a doctor to a great extent by the appearance of his office. If they get impressions of efficiency, sanitation, convenience, and good organization, they talk favorably . . . and on such impressions a sound practice can be built and maintained. Without the confidence and enthusiasm of all patients, a doctor's future standing in his profession is jeopardized.
